The Herald ran a picture (Herald, March 31) of seven men standing in front of some office buildings about 1910.

One day this week, about 55 years later, one of the subjects, E. E. Sitz, of Rosebud, walked into the front office.

He told us he was likely the only man living of the seven in that picture. And he said he had a copy of the picture at home.

Also shown in that picture were: Gunn Walker, W. H. Triggs, T. S. Henderson, U. S. Hearrell, D. B. Vorre, and William R. Rogers.

All but Mr. Sitz are among the missed, but passing scene.

The May 7 primaries just short weeks off remind us of the definition of two kinds of voters.... those who support your candidate and a lot of ignorant, prejudiced fools.

A young lawyer was presenting his first case in court. It was a simple damage suit brought by a farmer against a railroad whose train had killed 24 of his hogs, but the young lawyer was trying to dramatize it.

"Just think of it, gentlemen, 24 hogs," he vigorously emphasized, "24! Why, that's twice the number there are on this jury."

Town Meeting Friday, April 29....

5 Added To CIF Approval

Five more endorsements in the past seven days have brought to 14 the number of Cameron organizations approving efforts of Cameron Industrial Foundation to institute a $100,000 industrial program.

A sixth group, a meeting of Cameron and county teachers, heard the CIF presentation last week, but because of the nature of the organization was not asked to endorse.

A town meeting date of 7:30 p.m. Friday, April 29, has been set for the final meeting of the month-long series of information meetings by directors of Cameron Industrial Foundation.

About six speakers will outline the importance of the program to specific interest groups within the Cameron community as well as show the value of raising the CIF's $100,000 goal.

The kickoff of the drive will begin after May 1.

MORE ENDORSEMENTS
Endorsing the proposals of Cameron Industrial Foundation in the past week were: Civic Garden Club, Cameron Parent-Teachers Association, Knights of Columbus, St. Anthony Parent-Teachers Club and the Cameron Band Boosters Club.

Making talks before these groups were CIF directors: Hilliard Thomas, Frank Luecke, Charlie Burke, Lester Williams, Eugene Smitherman and Don G. Humble.

Scheduled to hear CIF speakers this week and next are: Three Arts Club, Cameron Junior Chamber of Commerce, Pleasure & Profit Club.

Possibility of other engagements is being considered by the Milam Young Farmers, Milam County Farm Bureau general meeting and later a directors meeting.

MONDAY MEETING
Directors of the CIF met Monday afternoon to consider schedules for workers in the fund drive, soon scheduled to begin.

Directors reviewed questions arising about various phases of the $100,000 project, which is divided:

ONE -- $40,000 -- Purchase of land and preparing for use, including cost of land, water sewerage, utility lines, leveling, roadways and site incidentals.

TWO -- $35,000 -- Promoting the industrial site, meaning employment of professional assistance, advertising in trade journals and engineering for prospects.

THREE -- $25,000 -- Building fund reserve, meaning a reserve for initiating and financing facilities, if necessary, for lease or sale to any industrial activity beneficial to Cameron area.

Officials urged asking questions following the brief talks, enabling the Foundation to clear up questions prior to the May 1 start.

Any organization not contacted may arrange for a speaker from the CIF board by calling the Cameron Chamber office, OX7-2541.

Area Rains Boost Crop Prospects

Ask Group To Organize...

Bid Let On New Waterline

The City Council Tuesday awarded a low bid of $4,119.37 to a Waco firm for waterline and urged residents on South Columbus Ave. to organize so that sewer service could be extended to that part of town.

Bids from two firms were opened Tuesday for 1533 feet of six-inch waterline and three fire hydrants to be emplaced on West 12th St. and East 18th St. projects already approved.

Low bidder was Rohan Co. of Waco. Second bid was $4,234.59.

In a brief discussion, Councilmen agreed that the City could begin definite planning on a sewerline project along South Columbus Ave. if all of the approximate 18 residents could commit to participation in advance.

DELEGATION ASKS
A delegation from that area earlier had told the Council of their interest in such a project, according to City-Secretary Baddy Fuller.

In other action, the Council heard second readings on a speed zone ordinance and an amendment to a dog ordinance.

A speed zone of 45 m.p.h. was approved by the State Highway Dept. for a 149 of a mile within the city limits of FM Rd. 2259 in Northwest Cameron.

And an amendment was approved in the existing dog ordinance outlining procedures for police in dealing with stray and pet dogs picked up on public streets.

Water Dept. Supt. Alvin Hefft noted that 325 feet of two inch waterline had been emplaced on 19th St., among routine projects.

WORK ON 8th ST.

Public Works Supt. J. B. Earle reported that work has begun on East Eighth St. where 24 property owners agreed to curb prior to a city double-coat penetration surface.

City Workmen also have been grading parking lot at the New Cameron Public Library, mowing weeds around town and spraying potential mosquito-infested areas of the community.

Fuller also said that an air easement on the north side of Cameron Public Airport has been arranged with the property owner and announcement of the project's start is forthcoming.

AG PROSPECTS

SEEN 'ROSEY'

BY FREEMAN

County Agent J. D. Moore Wednesday said it will be May or June before Milam's crop picture would develop, but weekend rains 'made a big difference'.

He was queried about farm income prospects in Milam County following a statement over the weekend by Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman that national agriculture net income would increase a billion dollars.

"Price prospects look good if we get a good yield," Moore told the Herald.

He noted that prices of cattle, hogs and eggs all are presently up.

He said the federal government is pouring considerable money into farming this year.

Freeman told the nation's press that a $15 billion net farm income is anticipated this year for the first time since 1947-48, the last boom years nationally for agriculture.

Freeman said he based his optimism on expectations that prices will be higher, though slightly, than the past year, but volume will be larger and enhanced with large government subsidy increases.

Freeman said government payments will approximate a billion dollars more than 1965's $2.5 billion.

Here in Milam County, Moore noted that Sunday rains made a big difference in crop prospects.

Bottomland farmers, near Maysfield, reported about 3 inches of rain.

Cold soil early in the planting season and seed germination have caused some difficulty, Moore said, but the rain Sunday "made a difference."

IRS Questions And Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — My brother-in-law filed his return a week after I did and has already received his refund. Mine hasn't come yet. Why?

A — A number of reasons are possible. Your return might have been incomplete or incorrect and is therefore in the process of being perfected. This would be the case if, for example, you did not list your Social Security number or entered an inaccurate one.

Another possible reason for the delay in your refund is that it might have been selected for a pre-refund audit. Some returns are audited before the refund is issued while others are audited after the refund has been sent.

You should receive your refund check, or a letter about it, within six to eight weeks after you file.

Q — When do you start withholding at the new rates?

A — Graduated withholding goes into effect on wage payments made on and after May 1. To see how it will affect you, ask your employer for a copy of our Document No. 5642.

Q — I got my refund yesterday, but it was different from the amount I expected. Why was that?

A — It could be that you made a mathematical error. You should receive an explanation in the mail within the next few days stating why the refund was different from the amount you applied for.

Q — I forgot to enclose one of the Schedules required as part of my return. What should I do?

A — Please hold it until you are contacted. You will be asked to supply this Schedule and any other information needed to process your return.

Q — I'm filing an amended return which gives me a lower balance due than the first return I filed. What should I do? Stop payment on the first check and send another?

A — Do not stop payment on the first check. If your amended return is accurate, you will receive a check for the difference between what you paid on the first return and the correct balance due.

Where there's space there's Alcoa aluminum.

An old hand when it comes to space, Alcoa aluminum is now enclosing quite a bit of it at the NASA Manned Spacecraft Center near Houston.

Much of this metal was made not many miles away at Alcoa's two Texas plants at Point Comfort and Rockdale, where Alcoa has more aluminum smelting capacity than in any other state.

It's not surprising of course that the light and agreeable metal is used in building of the nation's rocket boosters, for Alcoa aluminum has had a prime role in U. S. flight history ever since the days at Kitty Hawk.

But Alcoa metal is also used on four new buildings at the Manned Spacecraft Center which facilitate the training of astronauts and testing of equipment for the Gemini and Apollo flight programs. Alcoa industrial sandwich wall covers the Space Environment Simulation Laboratory and its Test Operations Support Wing. There, two solar simulation chambers will give the effects of the sun on the moon's surface with temperature extremes from plus 260 degrees to minus 280 degrees Fahrenheit. The nearby Contractors Support Facility, location of the "clean room," is also covered with Alcoa industrial sandwich walls.

In the Flight Acceleration Facility the world's largest centrifuge whirled astronauts and tests equipment at 20 g to 30 g in simulating powerful gravitational forces. Because the centrifuge's 50-foot arm must whirl unobstructed, the entire building is hung from supports which go up the sides and across the top like spokes on a giant wheel. These are covered with Alply panels in an Alumilite finish.

In each case, Alply panels and Alcoa industrial sandwich walls combine light weight with ease of construction while providing built-in insulation.

Texas Alcoans contribute mightily to the nation's industrial production while earning more than $21 million yearly. They take great pride in the fact that they help in the country's space effort.

CISD Director Of Testing Completes Princeton Workshop

Robert Maler, Director of Testing, Cameron Independent School District, recently attended a five-day workshop on the measurement aspects of special educational programs for deprived children.

The workshop, conducted by Educational Testing Service at Princeton, N. J., ended Friday, April 15. It was designed to help educators develop effective evaluation techniques for programs authorized, and in progress, under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

Under the Title I provisions, Congress has allocated more than $1 billion to help the nation's schools develop special programs to improve the education of an estimated 5½ million underprivileged children.

School and state education department officials from 24 states attended the workshop, which was held in the ETS Conference Center.

During the sessions, the educators received professional instruction to help them to define the particular objectives of their special programs, select proper evaluation instruments and techniques, and interpret the results of the evaluation process at various program stages. Each educator also was assisted in the development of an evaluation plan that could be directly applied to the Title I project his school or school system is conducting.

Dr. John S. Helmick, vice president for advisory and instructional services at ETS, directed the Workshop on Evaluating Title I Programs. Instruction was provided by ETS staff members and by personnel from the United States Office of Education.

Dr. Helmick said the workshop was offered because of the growing number of federally-supported educational programs for deprived children. Provisions of Title I, he said, require that school's using federal funds to operate such programs must evaluate and report their effectiveness.

The ETS workshop is part of a continuing program of instructional assistance to educators involved in the selection and use of standardized tests and other measurement techniques, Dr. Helmick said.

Farm. Ranch About Face In Land Market

COLLEGE STATION
Part of the Texas farm and ranch land market has done a sudden about-face, according to a survey released by Texas A&M University.
The survey was done by F. B.
Andrews, extension resource development specialist, and A. B.
Wagner, professor of agricultural economics, both at A&M.
Since 1949, Texas agricultural land prices have risen each year, but the volume of sales has consistently declined, in the A&M study, land prices continued to rise—but for the first time since 1939, the volume of sales also increased, reversing the downward trend.

Economists at Texas A&M say the reason for steadily increasing prices is the urban influence on farm and ranch land. Urban demands of land for hobby farming, rural homesites, speculation and recreation drive prices higher each year, say the economists.
The abrupt increase in volume of sales comes from a growing population with more income and better transportation to take them to land in the country.
According to the study, average land price in 1963 was $90 per acre, 10 percent above 1960 average. Volume of sales increased 22 percent.

Prices ranged from a high $700 an acre for land in the upper Rio Grande Valley, near El Paso, to a low of $41 an acre for land in the Trans-Pecos area.
The greatest increase in price since 1960 was in the Trans-Pecos region. Land prices in the Lo-rio Grande Valley declined 10 percent from 1960 to 1963.

The "Norm Ear" with the Beltone "Andante" Gives You These Exclusive Features:
1. With the Normear you take full advantage of the sound concentrating ability of the outer ear.
2. With the Normear you take full advantage of the ear's normal ability to protect the sound pickup from the wind noise-interference.
3. Unwanted background noise is kept to a minimum by the normal shielding ability of the outer ear.
4. Sounds in front of you are guided with full force by the outer ear into the Normear sound cavity.
5. Normear provides greater safety for hard-of-hearing motorists.
6. Normear gives you in-the-ear hearing at an economical operating cost.

7. Normear eliminates the nuisance of wind noise so you can hear in a windy and noisy environment.
8. Normear improves speech discrimination for nerve deafness.
9. Normear gives amazing new sound clarity to outdoor sportsmen.

The chief aim of the foundation is seeking industry and helping industry grow. The Civic Garden Club endorsed the Industrial Foundation following the presentation by Mr. Thomas.

Mrs. E. Camp Hosts
History Club, Guests
For April Meeting

Spring flowers were placed throughout the Emory B. Camp home for the History Club meeting last week with 14 members and 7 guests. Mrs. Niley Smith Sr., Mrs. Arthur Baskin, Mrs. Dick Freeman, Mrs. Eugene Strickland, Mrs. B. F. Bonds, Mrs. B. F. Robinson and Mrs. C. W. Hudson.

Mrs. Mary McLane Lawrence and Mrs. J. E. Johnson presented a program on the Butchart Gardens in British Columbia.

John Henderson Jr. spoke on the forthcoming Industrial Foundation fund drive.

During the social hour desert, coffee and tea were served in the dining room. An arrangement of mixed spring flowers centered the serving table which was covered with a green satin damask cloth. Mrs. John Martin and Mrs. B. F. Bonds assisted in the dining room.

mas. Mrs. Frank Schiller was hostess for the meeting. She served Danish pastries, cheese dips and coffee. An arrangement of red roses centered the table.

The program was presented by Mrs. Schiller and Mrs. J. A. Boelling. "Luring and Keeping our Feathered Friends" was the title of Mrs. Bowlings' talk. While birds appeal to us from the aesthetic side, they have furnished themes for innumerable poets, by their flights, they have inspired the predictions of the soothsayers of old and are indispensable in the destruction of noxious weed seeds and injurious insects, she said. Mrs. Boelling suggested ways of alluring birds to your vicinity. She said the Purple Martin is the largest and most beautiful of the swallow family. This bird feeds almost entirely on flying insects. An adult Martin will eat very nearly its own weight in flying insects daily. It is recognized as one of our most beneficial birds.

Mrs. Schiller brought a colorful talk on the conversation plants for district V. After pointing out the importance of conservation of our wild plants, she asked the listeners to note how mother nature is using her paint brush to color our country side at this time. She listed a large number of flowers on our conservation list as well as a number of trees and shrubs.

TP&L To Dedicate $2 Million Out In Stryker Creek Electric Station

The largest single-shaft turbine-generator now in service in the world, Stryker Creek No. 2, will be formally dedicated Friday, April 29, at Texas Power & Light Company's Stryker Creek Steam Electric Station northeast of Nacogdoches.

H. G. Ebdon, chairman of the board of Combustion Engineering, Inc., will deliver the dedicatory address. Included in the dedication ceremonies will be a luncheon and a tour of TP&L's Stryker Creek facilities.

TP&L began construction of Stryker No. 2, a generating unit capable of supplying 500,000 kilowatts of electricity, in the fall of 1963. Recently, the new unit joined the Company's existing 125,000-kilowatt generating unit at Stryker Creek in providing electric power for the cities and towns in TP&L's 52-county service area.

In addition to the large turbine-generator, Stryker No. 2 possesses the world's largest capacity gas-fired boiler. The boiler is 172 feet tall, and the superheater outlet pressure of 2670 pounds per square inch is the highest pressure of any subcritical boiler in the world. The boiler was supplied by Combustion Engineering.

Adjacent to the power plant is a 2,300-acre man-made lake. The earth dam and reservoir were constructed by a water district in East Texas when Stryker No. 1 went into service in 1953.

W. W. Lynch, TP&L president, said the new unit represented "a continuing phase of our construction program which is designed to have at all times abundant power for all the needs of the areas we serve."

The new unit at Stryker Creek will be tied into TP&L's 345,000-volt transmission line system which serves the TP&L area and extends from Houston to North Texas and west to the Permian Basin area of West Texas.

County Agent's Notes ...

Control Of Pecan Nut Casebearer

By J. D. Moore

It's almost that time of year when those with pecan trees become concerned about the proper time to spray their trees for the control of the casebearer worm. This small worm is the major pecan pest in Texas and severe infestations can destroy an entire pecan crop.

Tom Denman, researcher at Texas A&M University's West Cross Timbers Experiment Station, has done research which shows the banding system eliminates much of the present guesswork in timing the spraying schedule for the casebearer.

The first step in a banding system, says John Thomas, Extension entomologist at A&M, is to wrap heavy corrugated paper or burlap around trees suspected of having the casebearer pupae. He says the bands should be wrapped around smaller limbs just before the bark becomes rough.

The pupae travel down the tree limbs looking for a secluded place to undergo the transformation to a moth. They hide under the bands of paper or burlap where large numbers of them are easily captured. The next step is to catch the pupae and place them in glass jars with ventilated lids. Then emergence records should be kept. When 10 percent of the moths emerge, spraying should begin in about 8-10 days. The 8-10 day waiting period is to allow the free moths time to lay eggs and for the eggs to hatch. The trick is to spray within the critical period just after most of the eggs have hatched. If large numbers of the moths emerge over a period of two weeks or more, two applications of spray may be necessary.

One of the stumbling blocks in controlling casebearers has been accurate timing of spraying. Banding offers a scientific method of determining when to spray.

Information necessary to explain the banding system in accurate detail is available at the county agent's office.

Factories in the United States were safer than ever in 1964, according to the Insurance Information Institute, as the rate of industrial fatalities dropped to an all-time low of 21 per 100,000 workers. The worst year in the past quarter century was 1940, when the rate was 35.3 per 100,000.

Home Demonstration Club Notes

There were 11 present on April 7, for the third lesson of the Young Homemakers Salaries. Food for the Young Family. The topic of this lesson was "Meal Planning Made Easy", and was held at the Simon George Hall in Cameron. The series is being conducted by the Milam County Home Demonstration Agent, Carol Bennett, and the Associate Home Demonstration Agent, Texanna Manley.

The young homemakers were urged in this lesson to make their meals more appealing and interesting to their families by including a variety of colors, shapes, textures, aromas, flavors, temperatures, and food groups in each meal. The advantages of planning written menus at least three days ahead of time were stressed as well as planning well-balanced and nutritious meals by using menu patterns.

On April 14, there were 16 present for the fourth lesson of the series, "Food Selection and Buying", which was also held at the Simon George Hall. Ways to get more for the food dollar, the value of keeping simple records of food costs, the value of making menus and shopping lists, and price comparisons were discussed. The Nov. Salera H. D. Club served refreshments to the young homemakers.

The Tracy-Duncan H.D. Club served refreshments at the March 23rd meeting, and the Davilla H. D. Club served refreshments at the third lesson.

The Milam County Subcommittee on Aging met at the First Baptist Church in Cameron on April 13th and made further plans on the Senior Citizens' Hobby and Craft Day and the Honoring Ceremony. The subcommittee decided to have both of these events on the same day, April 30th, from 2 - 4 p.m. at the Rockdale W.O.W. Hall.

Rise in Auto Thefts

Auto thefts in the United States have nearly tripled since 1960, according to the Insurance Information Institute. There were 163,409 cars stolen in 1965 and 466,305 in 1964. Authorities stress that the best way to safeguard your car against thieves is to lock it and take the key with you.

LAND PRICES AND SALES RISE

A recently released study by agricultural economists at T&M dealing with land sales and prices shows that both have increased during the past three years. Since 1949 land prices have increased each year but volume of sales consistently declined. This trend in sales has done an about-face during the past 3 years, say Economists A. B. Wooten and F. B. Andrews. They cite urban inflation as the reason for the steadily increasing prices. Urban demands for land for hobby farming, rural homesites, speculation and recreation push prices higher each year, they say.

REGISTERED BULL SALE

Robert Hoelscher, Burlington, has reported the sale of one registered horned Hereford bull to Edwin R. Marek, Temple.

HORSTMANN BROTHERS

Why buy a low-priced car when you can get a high-priced car with all this for the same money?

Especially when those luxurious interiors, the Wide-Track ride and handling and a 121-inch wheelbase come behind that bold split grille and under the Pontiac name. With at least 50 more standard horsepower from its 399 cu. in. V-8 and a resale value the record books show year after year as one of the best. (And, of course, a standard seven-item safety package with things like backup lights.) What's more, we're not just talking about a single "special" Catalina, either. All seven of them are priced down in the low-priced range. Come in and test-drive a Catalina today!

Wide-Track Pontiac Catalina
(A big, powerful Pontiac for less than $3000*.)

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Catalina 2- and 4-door sedans and 2- and 4-door hardtops are all less than $3000. These prices include excise tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charges. Transportation charges, title and local taxes, accessories and optional equipment additional.

At Cameron's Vantage Points . . .

An organization seeking a project might find one in a suggestion we heard this week.

It goes something like this: Spread the word that seed from the blue bonnets and Indian paintbrush are going to be distributed in intense quantities at all the major intersections that surround Cameron — at the triangle across Little River, at the "Y" west on SH 36 and perhaps at Elm Creek bridge north on US 77. We are informed that these flowers, now about to seed after their spring bloom, can be "stripped" for seed purposes.

The Texas Highway Dept. has for years distributed them along the highways. Perhaps they would be interested. It would require a group to grasp such a project in the next few weeks. In a few years, the profusion of the State Flower and its Indian sidekick around Cameron's vantage points would be a sight to behold.

'Clean-Up Drive' Proposed . . .

Cameron Chamber directors are proposing a spring "clean-up drive" for the community. It has been several seasons since the last was held.

Regular pickup by city debris trucks has reduced the load any spring clean-up might carry, but it would still mean the removal of tons of stuff that otherwise clutter your town.

It is one of the easiest programs in which to participate.

It goes without saying that good housekeeping is important to a community which wishes to be attractive to residents and newcomers.

The natural beauty of a community gifted with so many trees and flowers can be the brighter for neighborhoods cleared of unwanted weeds, unused buildings and worn-out fences, and day-to-day clutter we sometime take for granted.

The trimming that shrubs and bushes on Yoe Campus, as well as the renovation of the Yoe Memorial is a good example of what almost every neighborhood in Cameron can do.

An idea does not have to be new to be a good one.

Produce Of Future Possibly Shipped Under Sedation

COLLEGE STATION — Food technology continues to advance, and although it may sound far-fetched, several companies think there is a big future in shipping produce under a form of heavy sedation.

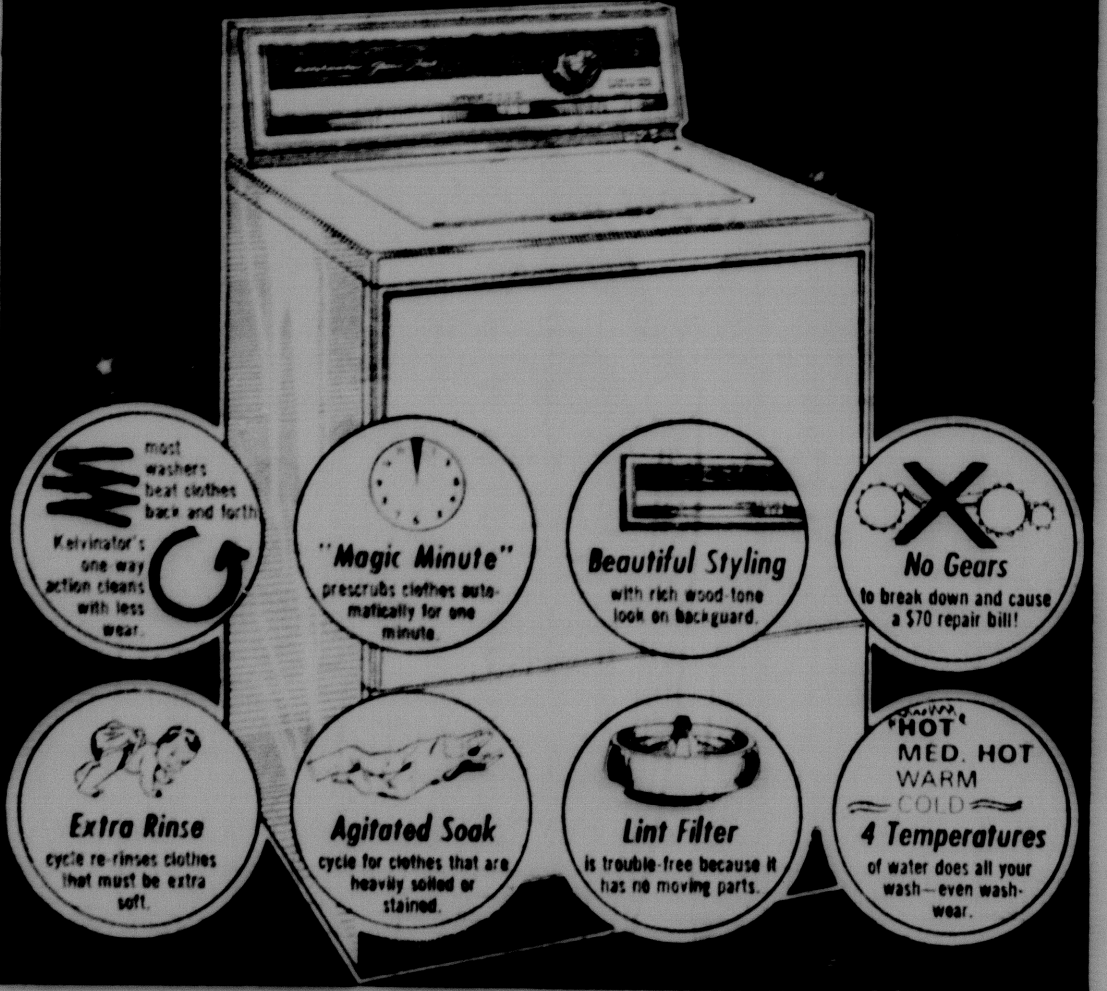

Mrs. Gwen Glyatt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist, says that in the future, you may hear of a load of tomatoes that has been "put to sleep" or a truck load of cabbage that "holds its breath."

or lobsters that are shipped in a state of "suspended animation." Up to now, refrigeration has been the basic method of delivering fruits and vegetables to markets. However, another method has been developed which not only prevents deterioration, but also retains more of the flavor. Nitrogen can be injected into a load of produce to lower the oxygen level and curtail the "breathing" process, the main cause of deterioration. The effects wear off in about two days and at that time, normal respiration and oxidation begin again. Produce may be eaten at any time without change in taste, nutritive value or possible ill effects," says Mrs. Glyatt. The consumer food price situation this week finds egg prices easing down just a bit after the heavy demand before Easter. Fryer chickens are "specialized" at several markets, so be sure to have plenty on hand should the weather entice you to have a cook-out.

Deadline Nears For Water Plan

AUSTIN — As State agencies charged with meeting the Federal deadline of submitting a Texas Water Plan by June, 1967, "wade" through all obstacles in the path of that plan, "water" is the topic at every turn in the capital city.

An unique statewide water plan of importance to all areas of Texas will be unveiled within the next few weeks.

In a brief preview, water experts revealed that the overall 50 year plan will cost more than $2,000,000,000. Joe M. Kilgore, chair man of the comprehensive water planning advisory committee, said the proposals are "broader than ever before attempted by a n y government."

Joe G. Moore Jr., executive director of the Texas Water Development Board, said the plan will propose redistribution of water from surplus areas of northeastern Texas. Recommended diversion would follow the Trinity River, the Brazos River and a canal down the Texas coast.

Moore estimated cost of waste treatment facilities along to bring stream "return flow" (or reuse) to acceptable standards at $740,000, 000. Figure would include regional treatment systems for both municipal and industrial wastes.

No other state, said Chairmen Kilgore, has attempted to so include in one massive effort all aspects of water planning touching on its entire economy and cultural life.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS — State Savings and Loan Department has authority to decide whether a business not under its regulation may use the term "savings" as part of its name. Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr ruled. In other recent opinions, Carr concluded that:

Newly authorized farm machinery exemption from motor vehicle inspection requirement does not necessarily include trucks and jeeps primarily used on farms.

Board of Economic Opportunity of Laredo and Webb County can hire relatives of its members with out violating hie State's nepotism laws.

A constable who advertises he won't work traffic accidents has not neglected his duty, but an actual refusal to attempt such accidents where there is reason to believe a violation has occurred does constitute neglect.

A justice of peace may appoint counsel for an indigent in an examining trial, but a section of the criminal code permitting inclusion of fees for appointed lawyers in court costs is unconstitutional.

Appropriation for construction of a museum building at Washington State Park cannot be used for repairing or restoring historic buildings already at the park.

A person placed on probation cannot get fine and court costs back on completion of probationary period.

Unclaimed property in hands of peace officers for 30 days is to be sold (does not apply to intoxicants or autos.)

Wilbarger County Hospital District (but not county commission ers) has authority to buy land for community center for mental health and retardation services to be operated by the state.

July 20 deadline for setting tax rate is applicable to Brazoria County.

APPOINTMENTS

Gov. John Connally appointed Lewis H. Bond of Fort Worth, Robert W. Whipkey of Big Spring and William B. Blangemore of Midland to new State Judicial Qualifications Commission.

Connally named as representatives to the 15th annual Legislative Work Conference on Southern Regional Education, July 27-30: Sens. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, Jack Hightower of Vernon and Culp Krueger of El Campo and Reps. Don Cavness of Austin, Lee Duggan Jr. of Houston, Gene Fondren of Taylor, James E. Klager of Corpus Christi, Felix L. McDonald of Edinburg, Rayford Price of Frankston and Reed Wulham of Lubbock.

Joe Edgar Wright, formerly of Brownwood, succeeds George L. Carver, who retired April 15, as head of the Texas Highway Department Planning Survey Division.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

According to part of a newspaper I found out here yesterday — what happened was that the front page caught on a fence but the rest blew away — a lot of people are worried over inflation and some are blaming it on higher farm prices.

This particular article said farm prices have gone up, the price of food therefore has gone up, other items have joined the spiral, and the cost of living all around has gone up. "The answer," the article continued, but at that point it had reached the bottom of the page and said Continued On Page 12, which had blown away.

I don't know what the answer was and wasn't interested in walking across this Johnson grass farm hunting for it, but I don't believe the only way to avoid inflation is to keep farm prices low. Must be some other way.

In a depression, I can see how farm prices can be low, but to argue they've got to be low too when times are booming or otherwise we'll have inflation, is putting too much of a load on the same sore backs.

I have given this matter some thought and in the process have arrived at the final and permanent solution to the farm price problem. It'll absolutely end the system where one year a farmer gets 28 cents a pound for a hog and the next year 14 cents.

Take the wages of labor. They're tied to the Economic Index. When the cost of living advances, wages are automatically advanced too. It's in the contract. Don't even have to strike.

If us farmers were smart we'd get hooked up with the Economic Index too, so that when farm prices go down, wages drop. Everybody's wages — union workers, college presidents, bank presidents, Governors.

I guarantee this will keep farm prices up to a satisfactory level from now on.

When labor leaders, executives, college presidents, television announcers, U.S. congressmen, tractor dealers, gasoline companies, etc., all get financially interested in what a dozen eggs off this Johnson grass farm sell for, the farm problem will be licked.

Meanwhile, tell the people not to worry too much about paying more for what they buy. Out here in the country, we've been buying high and selling cheap for years.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

DIPLOMATIC POUCH

WASHINGTON — The following letters were recently answered by the Dept. of State.

For many years we have been importing sperm whale teeth from Norway, to make scrimshaw. Due to the scarcity of whales our Norwegian supplier has gone out of business. We understand the Russians are still whaling from Vladivostok. Is it possible to get a permit to import whale teeth from the U.S.S.R.?

H.A.H.Jr.

Dear Mr. H.:
As a matter of general policy, the United States Government views favorably trade in peaceful non-strategic goods with the Soviet Union and other communist countries of Eastern Europe. The Department of State cannot, of course, endorse specific business proposals. The decision to trade with the Soviet Union, as is the case of trade with any other country, must be made by the company involved based on its own best interests, taking into account the applicable United States Government regulations governing such trade. One of the agencies of the United States Government which would be concerned in such an import is the Department of the Treasury.

ation of Houston and Piper Petroleum Company of Delaware are trying to get authority to mine sulphur for 50 cents an acre on state land worth $2,000 an acre. He also contends 1895 and 1919 State laws under which the companies filed no longer are applicable and were replaced by sealed bid statutes in 1931.

Court ordered Sadler to postpone his scheduled May 3 opening of bids until it reaches a decision on the May 11 hearing.

DRAFT QUOTA DROPS

Texas' draft quota for June is the lowest in a year — 712. Last June's quota was 670, according to Texas Selective Service headquarters. Allotment ran to nearly 1,000 for seven months starting in September, dropped to 979 in April and rose to 1,642 for May.

Nationwide quota, during June (for the Army) is 15,000.

Did the United States ever receive any gold from the USSR after the shipment of over $10 million worth of wheat? This question was brought up in my Senior Economics class, and the answer could not be found after considerable research.

E.D.McK
Arcadia, Indiana
Dear Mr. McK:—

The 1963 wheat sale to the Soviet Union was handled by private American grain trading firms. Payment for shipments of wheat was made in American dollars upon delivery and the submission of the necessary shipping documents at the port of entry. As a result, there was no direct transfer of gold from the Soviet Union to the United States to pay for the wheat. However, the Soviet Union was apparently obliged to sell gold on the London gold market and through the Bank for International Settlements in Basel to obtain the additional hard currency needed to pay for imports of wheat from Canada, the United States, and other countries.

Letters

Dear Mr. Luecke:
I'm delighted to hear of your interest in THE DIPLOMATIC POUCH. Five new issues are enclosed, and you will continue to receive them regularly.

Response to this column has been most enthusiastic, with more than a million readers so far. As I noted in my first letter to you, the Department answers over 200,000 letters a year — so we don't expect to run short of interesting material representing the kind of questions your readers have on their minds.

Thank you again for your support.

Sincerely,

Office of Media Services

This is truly a beautiful season of the year, when we begin to admire the green lawns and shrubbery, adorned with lovely flowers. What extra effort, time and exertion we put forth to fertilize and water these lawns to make them more attractive. Surely we all take pride in seeing the yards beautiful and green.

What about the many vacant lots and back yards. Are we proud of them? These vacant lots needs no attention, no fertilizing, no watering, and yet if we look around in our City, we find the grass and weeds already a foot tall. What an unsightly scene. What a Fire hazard to contend with when the dry summer season gets here.

Do something about your vacant lots and back yards now, before they get out of control. If you do not have the facilities or the time, your City Street Department will keep them mowed for a reasonable fee.

Get the clean-up urge now, and keep it all during the year. It pays off! It looks better!

Happiness Is Appreciation...

Happiness is appreciation for the things we have. To a little girl, happiness might be gathering wild flowers in the spring. To a small boy, happiness might be the crack of the bat as he hits a home run. To a man, it might be catching that large fish at the lake. To a woman, it might be buying a new hat.

But to all, happiness in America means the freedom to do all these things . . . and more.

Our forefathers established the freedom that is America. Since 1776, thousands have given their lives to protect that freedom. As citizens, we can protect it in another way . . . by using our privilege to cast our vote in every election . . . local, county, state and national.

Casting our vote is a happy occasion. It is one way we can express our appreciation for the freedoms which are ours.

• San Gabriel

By Mrs. H. H. Linke

Billy Reason, Linda Freeman, and Mrs. Guinn Gifford and Louis visited Pst. Charles Gifford at Ft. Polk, Louisiana Saturday. Mrs. Gus Schramm left Sunday for Kilmore and a week's visit with Gladys and Richard Welch who are the parents of an 8 pound 2 ounce son born Saturday.

Weekend guests of Lobel and Walter McDaniell were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe McDaniell and Lisa of Houston.

Clarice and Ralph Hensch spent Sunday in Bellville with Alice and Ralph Paul Hensch and Linda.

Barbara and Barkley Garner were honored with a miscellaneous shower Saturday night in the Fellowship Room of the Baptist Church. Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Buddy Limmer, Mrs. Walter McDaniell, Mrs. Dan Beason, Mrs. Larry Hine, Mrs. Lenza Coffey, Mrs. Willie Schwarz, Mrs. Guinn Gifford and Mrs. Henry Abel.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Limmer Sunday were his sister, Mrs. Edna Martinets of Taylor, and her fiancé, Fred Keelings of Hearne.

Mrs. Jim Stewart and Mrs. Joe Henry were shopping in Austin on Friday.

The San Gabriel Baptist Church is still without pastoral leadership as the men that the church had called to be their pastor sent his resignation to the church as he had made the decision to remain in his present church. The church does have an interim pastor, Rev. Kenneth England of Round Rock, who has been serving for the past two and one half months.

Nelson Linke of Houston is spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. Emily Linke.

Weekend guests of Mrs. Howard Fulcher were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilson of Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cox and son of Texas City, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jones of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fulcher Jr. and Sharon of Houston.

A lovely one-half inch rain fell in this community Sunday night.

BLIGHT CONTROL IN PEANUTS

Southern blight, a damaging disease of peanuts, must be prevented before or during the planting operation. Crop rotation and the deep burial of surface trash are very helpful cultural practices for reducing the losses from the disease, says Wendell Horne, Extension plant pathologist at Texas A&M University. He recommends planting peanuts under irrigation on beds four inches higher than the ground level and those on dryland on beds 1 to 2 inches above the ground level. Soil should not be thrown around the base of the plants during cultivation. A fungicide is recommended where yield potential is high. Local county agents can supply details, Horne said.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

LOOK OUT BELOW

Through two rollicking days, delegates at a veteran's convention had fun. From the windows of their hotel they joyfully dropped bags of water on unsuspecting passers-by.

But on the third day came trouble. A cluster of pedestrians, catching sight of a descending bag, scattered in panic. One man crowded off the curb and against a passing car suffered severe injuries.

Unable to find out who had dropped this particular bag, the victim filed a damage suit against the hotel. And he collected. The court said it was the hotel's duty, after mischief had continued so long to put a stop to it.

For, like any building owner, a hotel has responsibilities not only to the occupants of its own premises but also to the general public beyond. It must take reasonable measures to prevent harm by those on the inside to those on the outside.

True, the hotel cannot be blamed if it had no real opportunity to avert the accident.

Thus a hotel was held not liable when a bathtub guest on its roof garden impulsively threw an empty bottle over the edge of the building. The court said the management had no way of foreseeing, hence no way of forestalling, such an unusual act.

Nor is the hotel responsible merely because it happens to own the article that was dropped. For example:

A clumsy guest, handling a window screen too roughly, caused it to fall outside. An unlucky pedestrian below, struck and injured, put in a claim for damages from the management. But even though the screen was hotel property, the court found no basis for such a claim - no reasonable way in which the hotel could have prevented the accident.

By way of contrast, in another falling-screen case, the victim did succeed in holding the hotel liable. The difference: in this case, the screen was already loose when a guest dislodged it by swatting a fly.

The court said on alert management could well have foreseen that a fly would land on the screen, that a guest would swat the fly, that the loose screen would fall out, and that somebody below would get hurt.

And what should have been foreseen should have been avoided. A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

Crawford Martin In Cameron Wednesday On Campaign Tour

Attorney General candidate Crawford Martin visited Milam County Wednesday when he stopped at Cameron as part of a three-day tour through Central and East Texas.

Martin and his campaign workers arrived in a bus caravan and shook hands with voters in the downtown area.
